CITY ASKS CO. TO TAKE OVER SEAWALL BONDS: MAYOR CALLS MEETING

Hancock County Paid Interest on Seawall Bonds for Original Seawall In City Limits Last Year—Asked To Take Over All Bonds And Relieve People of Direct Taxation.

The city commissioners at the recent meeting passed a resolution asking the board of supervisors to take over a county project the payment of all interest on the bonds which the city issued to pay for the seawall built in the city preceding the building of the seawall by the county as a gasoline paid taxation.

The city asked the county to take over these bonds last year and the county did so paying the interest for the year. However, this taking over of the seawall bonds from the city was only passed on favorably for one year. The city now seeks to have the county take over the rest of the indebtedness outstanding against the city for this seawall and handle it as part of the roads protection project.

Mayor Chas. Traub, Sr., called a meeting of the city commission, the board of supervisors and members of the Road Protection Commission to be held October 5, at the city house, for the purpose of achieving some plan whereby the people of the city shall be relieved of direct taxation for the bonds.

At the meeting of the city commissioners two other resolutions were passed. The city asked by resolution the board of supervisors to repair a drain made defective by the recent construction work near the court house. The city also asked the county to cooperate in launching a campaign for the elimination of Argentine ants in the county the campaign to be handled by the State Plant Board.

LEETOWN REUNION DRAWS 500

People From Several Counties Assemble To Pay Respect To Large Lee Family.

The reunion of the Lee family held Sunday at Leetown Park and Play Ground drew together a crowd of 500 people, coming from all parts of the county and adjoining counties to participate in a great community gathering and pay respect to one of the prominent families of the county.

The park provided a delightful place in which to hold such a meeting. Some months ago under the direction of the home demonstration agent, Miss Mayme O'Dom, the community organization decided to create a park on the ground loaned by a member of the organization, and the beautiful park which is so fitting a picnic grounds, is the result of concerted effort. No gathering at the park has yet been finer than that held Sunday.

The celebration centered largely around the older members of the Lee family including "Uncle Lawson" and "Aunt Mary Anne" Lee, Mr. Lawson Lee being the oldest of 11 children, all of whom are now living and nine of whom were present Sunday for the reunion. Much of the day was spent in exchange of family and community news.

At noon time a bounteous dinner was spread under the trees on the long tables provided. Stands at which one could purchase hot and cold drinks and lunches were open throughout the day.

Prof. S. P. Powell, superintendent of the Kilm Consolidated high school and a Baptist minister of the community, was the principal speaker at the gathering, eulogizing the Lee family, many members of which he knows well. Community singing was a delightful part of the reunion festivities.

EDITOR IS SPEAKER AT ROTARY

Local Newspaperman Tells Of Interesting Five Weeks' Trip To California, Mexico and Texas

(By Nannie-Mayes Crump)

The principal speaker at the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club Wednesday of this week was Chas. G. Moreau, local newspaperman, who returned over the week-end from a delightful five weeks' trip to Texas, California and Old Mexico. He told of the sections visited and gave some observations of his trip.

Although San Antonio, Texas, was not the objective for the trip, yet it was there as guests of Mr. Moreau's niece and nephew-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Graves, proved most pleasant. Mr. Moreau said. He had visited this city in 1923 and was impressed with the "gigantic and constructive strides made there." He stated he was interested with the Smith-Young Tower building which is over 30 stories in height, the first 6 floors being occupied by Sears-Roebuck Company. In order to build this building at its present location the San Antonio River bed had to be moved. This river which is small at the dry season, yet rises so that it has a depth of 60 feet in places, he said. He spoke of the Milam building, the largest building in San Antonio, which is built of concrete and which possesses a remarkable cooling system which keeps the temperature of the rooms at 70 degrees Fahrenheit, even when the windows are closed. The Saturday Evening Post recently published an article devoted to this building. "The Tower, and other buildings have changed the skyline of San Antonio's business and residential section," Mr. Moreau said.

In Los Angeles Mr. and Mrs. Moreau were guests of Mrs. Moreau's cousins, C. W. Patton and his family. "We were much impressed with the constantly growing proportions of Los Angeles," he said. This was the fourth visit to California. Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gray, he a former Leetown resident, the Moreaus attended a service at the Altine McPherson $1,000,000 Angeles Temple and heard this speaker. There were 5000 present at the service and Rev. McPherson baptized 55 converts that night. An interesting event is connected with this visit. Mr. Moreau went to the platform and introduced himself to the minister as being from Mississippi and the spoke this information into the microphone which amplified the information to the congregation and Mrs. Dr. Albert Gray, formerly of Julia street, Bay St. Louis and now resident of Los Angeles, heard the announcement and left her seat and when Mr. Moreau

LADIES OUTBOARD MOTOR BOAT RACES WERE HELD SUNDAY

Miss Marie Louise Juden and Mrs. Alice Dupaquier Won First Places.

The outboard motor boat races on the course at the mouth of the Jordan River Sunday which were for ladies only proved most interesting as the final in a series of yachting events which have drawn large crowds here during the summer.

The events were sponsored by Walter Dupanier ably assisted by Emile Cue, Charles Breath and Miss Katherine Irwin, all of whom served in the official capacity.

Out of a field of more than half a dozen of the little craft, Miss Marie Louise Juden piloted her speedy little Nannon four times around the course two miles distance to a victory in the displacement race, the first on the program. Miss Mary Bourgeois in Miss Lou straked across the finish line just a short pace behind, followed by Miss Carol Weston in Green Streak. 26:49.

The free-for-all brought out another fine entry. Mrs. Alice Dupaquier skipped the Bud across the finish line in front in the fast time of 19 minutes 41 seconds. Miss Mary Bourgeois again figured in the prize-getting by storming down right on the stern of the Bud with her Hot Patsy. Her elapsed time was 20 minutes 42 seconds.

Miss Gladys Chapman, who piloted No. Poolin, was the third to finish in the free-for-all.

CAMPAIGNS VS. ANTS SUCCESS

Recent Investigations Reported By Inspector F. P. Amsler.

The Argentine ant campaigns conducted in Hancock county last fall with the assistance of the State Plant Board have been very successful according to Inspector F. P. Amsler, with headquarters at Gulfport, who recently investigated the situation. The poison was well distributed at Bay St. Louis, Pearlton, Kiln, Gainesville, Ansley, Nezan, Napoleon, and at the County Farm of Bayou La Croix.

At Bay St. Louis the inspector visited 115 homes and of this number 110 reported that no ants had been seen in their homes since the campaign last fall. Only one complaint of the ants was received during the investigation. The ants have been so greatly reduced that the prospects for complete eradication are good if he fight is continued regularly, Mr. Amsler reported.

At Pearlton 30 homes were visited and 29 reported that no ants had been seen since the campaign and the other four families had seen a few but had not been bothered. At Kiln 50 homes were visited and only 4 families complained of Argentine ants. Twelve homes were visited at Gainesville with satisfactory results in all cases though a few ants had been seen in some of the houses. At the other places where the poison was distributed good results were secured, Mr. Amsler said.

An investigation of many complaints of ants showed that they were not Argentine ants but the native species that are returning to their territory from which the Argentine ants drove them out. Mr. Amsler finds that in most cases the fire ant or common stinging ant is causing all of the trouble. This ant prefers meats or greasy foods and Mr. Amsler advises a bait made of 1 part of arsenic acid, 40 parts pure hog lard, and 40 parts wheat bran or corn meal. Good results have also been secured by using baits of meat skin or greasy bones dusted with tartar emetic and placed where the ants can get them. In most cases these baits should be placed in small tin cans with hole punched in them in order to keep cats and dogs from getting into the poisoned bait. These ants nest in the ground usually and where it is possible to dig up their nests and saturate with kerosene or boiling water, this method will probably be more satisfactory than an attempt to poison them.

DISCONTINUE ALL WORK OF THREE COUNTY AGENTS

Board of Supervisors Dismiss Agents Effective Oct. 1—Lack of Funds.

The Board of Supervisors at the session Monday morning of this week voted to discontinue all work of the three county agents, namely farm agent, home demonstration agent and colored home demonstration agent, the duties of the officers now holding these offices to be terminated October 1, according to the minutes of the board. It had been decided last week by the board to put the matter of the continuance of these offices before the people of the county in an election to be held October 5, but at the session Monday morning, continued from last week, the board reconsidered the matter and decided to discontinue the offices.

It is understood that this latter move was made by the supervisors because of lack of funds. The board is engaged in working on the budget at the September session and these items were not included, it was said.

LARGEST NUMBER STUDENTS

Bay Public School Faces Fine Year With Many Students And Good Faculty.

The 1929-30 session of the Bay City schools opened auspiciously Monday with the largest enrollment in the history of the school. An official opening program was conducted at the Central High School auditorium which a number of patrons attended.

Mayor Chas. Traub, Sr., officially representing the city government, made the principal talk of the morning. He spoke of the relation of the city government to the public school system. He explained the system of taxation which supplies funds for the conduct of the schools. He assured teachers and trustees that the city commissioners would support them in all matters pertaining to the good of the school and the betterment of educational advantages for the children of Bay St. Louis.

"I expect this to be the greatest year the school has ever had," Supt. S. J. Ingram said. "We have one of the strongest faculties ever grouped here, each teacher being chosen for a special work and I am expecting fine things from them."

A charming courtesy was extended the teachers by the Central Parent-Teachers Association. As each teacher was introduced a basket of flowers was presented the teacher. These lovely flowers had been arranged by the members of the P. T. A. The pleasure of the teachers in this kindly welcome may be seen in the remark heard by one of the newcomers: "The thought was so sweet as fine that it made me know I was welcome and determine anew to give my best to such wonderful people." Another said: "Greeted with flowers! What could be nicer?"

Monday afternoon was devoted to a faculty meeting at which schedules were worked out and plans for individual and concerted effort made. Work in earnest was begun in the classrooms Tuesday morning.

PASS ROTARY CLUB TO PUT ON NIGHT SCHOOL FOR TOWN

Constructive Endeavor Definitely Adopted at Meeting Held This Week.

Pass Christian Rotary Club, at its regular luncheon Tuesday noon, definitely decided to inaugurate a public school night service to the boys and girls and men and women of that town who will care to take advantage of this opportunity.

The State Board of Education, cooperating in defraying expenses, has agreed to enter into the work and classes will begin as early as practicable. An unusual plan, used in Mobile and possibly other places to raise extra funds without impairing the club's exchequer, is to tax every member on his birthday a sum based at 10 per cent for every year reached. A member 20 years old will pay a tax of $2.00, 30 years $3.00 and so on. The oldest member of the Pass Club is 70 years, hence he will pay $7.00. The next oldest, we understand, is 64 years, he will pay $6.40.

The Pass Club is one of the live ones in the district and a great deal of interest is manifested at all times. Every member is a live wire and realizes his obligation to the fullest extent.

Once again, the word is: Beautify Bay St. Louis.

Congress having re-assembled, with all its wise men, you would expect that quick solutions of pressing problems would be easily attained. However, the wisdom of the speakers on the stump, during campaign time, seems to fade in Washington.

We are willing to admit that we know a great many things but why some people fail to see that it is to their interest to build up Bay St. Louis in every business way is one of the problems that escapes our observational powers.

TRY THIS LOGAN.

Bay St. Louis merchants report that they have the largest and most varied stocks of merchandise ever before assembled for local buyers. Well, what of it? Do our people appreciate the efforts of local merchants who do all that they can to keep money in Bay St. Louis? If they do, they will adopt as a slogan, "Shop in Bay St. Louis first."

OUR SCHOOLS ARE IMPORTANT.

The average citizens of Bay St. Louis, even the parents, fail to appreciate the importance of the opening of our public schools. Every year, about the same time, the newspaper is filled with stories about teachers and pupils getting back to work. Even editors, at times, look stolidly at the procession of news that trickles in about scholastic activity.

It is one of the peculiar characteristics of humanity that we do not attach proper importance to the training of young children. Somehow, or other, we feel that they will grow up, and in some mysterious fashion acquire sufficient intelligence and wisdom to "get along." We let them do the best they can, seldom inquiring into the factors which would assist their development.

The public schools of the nation are probably the greatest asset, in point of returns, that we have. Because our state has progressed to the point where the opportunity to learn is offered to every child we undervalue intrinsic worth. We are prone to attach importance to exclusive possessions, forgetting that the race of man moves forward as unit, not as an individual.

This month, we see hundreds of schools opening in Mississippi. Hancock county has its share. Thousands of hopeful little souls go into the classroom, to be made or marred by a vigorous society which decrees that they must. What happens to them there? How and what thoughts are engendered into their immature minds, or what social faculties are given them at school?

Surely, if the adults of this great nation catch the vision of regeneration that would come if all our pupils could be taught the worship of truth, the value of humanity and the duty of life in its fullness, we would have a better citizenship, a better opportunity and the joys of life would be manifold.

The goal of education is not necessarily intelligence. Rather the justification of schools is in preparing children to live as adult members of society, with an understanding of the nobility of earning whatever one acquires, an appreciation of certain cardinal virtues, and a willingness to serve capably in what ever station of life one may fill.

PRAISES "COUNTRY NEWSPAPERS."

Mr. Arthur Brisbane scores a few bull's eyes in expressing this opinion of the country press:

The public, and advertisers especially, should not underestimate the value of smaller newspapers." Each is a public policeman and a source of information in its own locality.

Advertisers should remember that readers of country newspapers read every line, advertising included, and they buy everything from paint on the roof to cement in the cellar floor, from the separator in the kitchen to the daughter's silk stockings. The greatest influence on public opinion rests with the ten thousand country editors.

We quote the above utterance, with full realization that many of the "country newspapers" have long since abandoned their independence, seeking only to make the most money that can be "milked" out of the community.

The virtue of the old-time country editor lay in his independent thought, unbuyable and unimpeached. This type of editor, personal in touch with city and county, might be wrong in his views but he always commands the respect of his foes as well as his friends.

Too many newspaper editors today labor under the impression that what the public wants is a "ves-man" and a "horn-tooter." The truth is that what subscribers of a news paper usually desire is honesty and the truth in news, and intelligent thought and fearless integrity in editorials.

No country newspaper with these attributes has to beg the neighborhood to support the newspaper!

CRUISERS AND NAVAL REDUCTION.

Advices from Washington tell us that the administration is trying to secure "parity" in cruisers by securing reduction of the British fleet.

We are in sympathy with naval disarmament, and hope that the two nations can get together on this question, but, all the same, we have no right to demand that the British reduce their tonnage below what they think are their needs.

If the United States wants parity it must expect to build a navy equal to the British. With all the talk that is going around it is absurd to believe that the British empire is going to be willing to reduce its cruiser tonnage to the American level.

It is just as well for our people to understand this now, as to imagine that we will not have to build any cruisers to secure parity with the British.

SOME UNINSURED COLLISION RISKS.

The other day two automobiles collided at a corner. One driver was plainly running recklessly, going entirely too fast and failed to slow up at the intersection of the streets.

He didn't argue about it at all, simply said it was his fault, that he would pay the damages and, added, "my policy covers it." Simple, was it not?

Well, we don't think so. What the young man overlooked was that nothing but the grace of God kept the other car from turning over, that the driver of the lighter automobile might have been killed and that no insurance policy can cover a permanent injury to a fellow man.

HOOVER'S FIRST SIX MONTHS.

President Hoover has now served this nation as president for six months and various writers are appraising his tenure of office. These gentlemen are premature!

Mr. Hoover has inaugurated many hopeful undertakings, which may bring valuable returns, but up to the present, these rewards have not appeared.

We express no opinion as to the President's record thus far. That he has made a splendid impression on the country at large is apparent, and the vast bulk of the people are willing to wait a while for what the politicians call "results."

I have a vague ambition to spend my last and worst day in a distant place. An occasional friendly letter to my children, and then the long silence.

If my final attendants are honestly able to write for my children I was reasonably patient, and in possession of my faculties, I would con-

LAKE SHORE SCHOOL
ANNOUNCES TEACHERS

The teachers who are in charge of Lake Shore school for this session include: Prof. Albert S. McQueen, principal; Mrs. McQueen, of the principal, second and third grades; Miss Ethel Sylvester, fifth and sixth grades, and Miss Melanie Habicht, primary work. All of these are re-elected from last year. In fact, these teachers have been connected with the school for varying periods which make them the friends of every one in the community. Prof. McQueen and Miss Sylvester each start their third year and Miss Habicht starts her eleventh year.

About 80 students enrolled this session. The school teaches only through the eighth grade, sending the high school students to the Bay high school.

INJURED WHEN AUTO
OVERTURNS MONDAY

Randolph J. Ladner, manager of the Bay Ice and Bottling Works, who resides in Lake Shore, was painfully injured early Monday morning when his auto overturned near Weston. It would appear that the driver failed to observe the road carefully and the car was overturned. The accident occurred about 4 o'clock, and a passing auto some time later carried Mr. Ladner to the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital for treatment. Later he went to his home. His right arm was cut from elbow to wrist and about 20 stitches were taken in it. He was en route to Brookhaven on business when the accident took place.

SIX BIRTHS WERE REPORTED IN JUNE

Births in Hancock County reported through the bureau of vital statistics of the Mississippi State Board of Health showed six during the month of June. These were: Ace John Lafontaine, boy, June 4, 1929.

Geo. J. Benigno, boy, June 14.
Alfred Lucien Bourgeois, boy, June 11.
Albert Ladner, girl, June 6.

The Bay Circle of King's Daughters at the regular monthly meeting Monday afternoon planned a benefit party to be given at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Friday night, September 20, 8 o'clock, to which the public is cordially invited.

The meeting Monday was largely occupied in routine matters. At the October meeting the delegates to the state convention will be chosen. The state convention will be held at Louisville, Miss., October 22-24.

COUNTY SCHOOLS OPENED SESSIONS

Four county schools opened their sessions Friday, namely, Lake Shore, DeCadeur, Edgewood and Logtown. Each classified their students and were ready for active class room work Monday. All anticipate good sessions.

Special Railroad Fare.

The Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce secretary, Miss Mathilde Ladner, has been notified by I. V. Colly, passenger agent of the L. &amp; N. railroad that a special reduced round trip to New Orleans and Gulf Coast points will be in effect October 5 from Washington, Alexandria, Norfolk, Suffolk, Petersburg, Portsmouth, and Richmond, Va. This round trip will be less than one-way fare and is good through October 25.

sider that an achievement: old men not themselves have always been distressing to me.

I have long observed that everything is contradicted. As wise a man as I know will make a statement to me and another equally wise declares there is nothing in it, and my informant, Anatole France once wrote: "Every false idea is dangerous. Dreamers are thought to be harmless. It is a mistake; they do a great deal of harm." Apparently the most inoffensive are really injurious; they tend to make one disgusted with reality." This I thought excellent. . . . On the same page, six lines below the statement quoted, Anatole France wrote: "To know is nothing at all; to imagine is everything. Nothing exists except that which is imagined." . . . A direct contradiction by a wise man. Which statement does he believe? Probably the first, since it is sensible, while the other is foolish. Why does this author contradict himself? Because he is a writer. Having exhausted his own side, he writes pot boilers on the other. . . . Writers do this. Sherwood Anderson, another author, owns two newspapers in the South. In the election one of them supported Mr. Hoover for President, and the other Mr. Smith.

Big business is like big baseball; players are mainly country town men who have climbed into fast company solely on merit. I was once talking of baseball to an old player, who had been given a chance in fast company, and failed. He did not exhibit the slightest bitterness because he was compelled to quit the game, and engage in law. "In order to be accepted in the big leagues," he said, "a man must have everything; I haven't it." . . . In business, as in baseball, the game is played in the country as well as in the big towns, and the same rules hold good; most applause and profit for those able to best hit the ball, field and display the most intelligence. The stars in the big towns are constantly dropping out because they are overpaid. Recruits must be had from the country, and always the recruits are selected strictly on accomplishment. . . . Any young man who understands the game of baseball and its rules understands the game conditions governing success in life. If he fails to play the game as well as he might, let him take his medicine with as good grace as possible.

OLD SPANISH TRAIL MOTORCADE TO COME, FROM COAST TO COAST

Coast Is Invited To Participate In Cross Country "Trek" October 2-14.

An invitation has been received at the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce from the Old Spanish Trail motorcade of which O. H. L. Wernicke of Pensacola, is chairman, to participate in the cross country, Coast to Coast "Trek" which will begin in Florida and extend to the West Coast, October 2 to 14.

Mr. Wernicke states that the "purpose is to create more travel over this highway and those who go along become agents, as it were, for every town and business interest along the way."

He states that Florida expects to have 100 cars, one representing each of the 67 counties. In his invitation to the Coast to participate he says:

"Your state is no less interested in promoting travel than are Florida and Alabama and it is up to the Mississippi Coast towns to make a proper showing. I think say, $5 cars from Mississippi can be had if your people get busy on it."

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

S. J. A. BEGINS WORK SEPT. 10.

Friday, Saturday and Monday were Registration Days and as the majority of pupils had been properly classified and provided with their books, all were ready to get down to real work at 3 P. M. on the opening day, September 10.

Every class reported a very gratifying number in attendance on this first day and judging by appearances 1929-1930 promises to be one of the most successful years yet witnessed at S. J. A.

Opening Day Thoughts of a Senior. September tenth!—To the uninitiated or the graduate just another date to us—the opening of school.

Seniors who "just can't realize" Juniors who scorn and patronize the under class and who scoff at their superiors, (ahem!)—the Seniors.

Sophs who announce "Honey you'll learn," and Freshmen quavering, "I wonder? How? What?—all are gathered together once more.

In the uproar and confusion of voices one catches only disjointed sentences, words and phrases—a conglomeration of Ohs! and Ahs! and vacuities. Surely, the

BAY P. T. A. MEETS.

The first meeting of Central P. T. A. was held Tuesday afternoon at Central school. Work for the new year was outlined by the new president, Mrs. J. A. Evans.

The membership drive begins Monday under the direction of Mrs. Owen Crawford. A picnic will be the reward given to the class that secures the most members.

Miss Carrington, State Dental Hygienist, was present and spoke briefly of her work in the schools of the county.

The main topic of the meeting was Health and Safety. Mrs. C. C. McDonald discussed this subject in an interesting manner.

Monday at the opening school exercises the faculty members were presented with lovely baskets of flowers by the P. T. A.

Power of Babel has nothing on us the first day of school.

We come with new resolutions, schemes, ideals and aims. Some of us will realize them, some of us won't.

It is the last year for some, the first for others. Some are new, some are old. That doesn't matter for we all have problems practically the same and we are all determined to put up a good fight.

The opening of school is inevitable so we have reluctantly capitulated and we face the coming year with a new fervor and a determination to do our best for ourselves and parents and S. J. A.

Introducing Billie.

"Have you met Billie yet?—No, Billie isn't a new pupil. Billie is the spy little Shetland Pony that was given to S. J. A. by Mr. O. Key.

Billie would delight the heart of any little girl or boy and Billie is to go to the holder of the lucky ticket. Wouldn't you like to be that lucky boy or girl?

The proceeds of the ticket sale for Billie are to go to swell the Gym Fund. So come on girls get busy. Let's see how much we can make Billie make the Gym Fund grow!

We are most thankful to Mr. O. Key for the gift of Billie and for his interest in S. J. A. and our new gym.

Who Said It Couldn't be Done?

Several persons couldn't see it and said it was impossible to move the outhouse of concrete blocks which stood on a space of the S. J. A. grounds which in the future will be occupied by the new gym.

Mr. Peter Boudin attempted the job however, and he and his crew successfully accomplished the difficult feat of removing the small concrete structure to another part of the yard. Here's three cheers for Mr. Boudin and his crew!

Calotabs
TRADE MARK REG.

Coated tongue, dry mouth, bad breath, mucky skin, groggy nerves and sour stomach suggest its use.

Well, she would sell what God had made of her for what man might make of her!

The studio she had met the casting director, Arthur Tirrey. It was he who said to this one or that one, "Here is a part; play it, and the company will give you so much a week."

He was the St. Peter of the movie heaven, empowered to admit or to deny. He was the man for her to seek. He had seemed a decent enough man, and he had looked at Mem without insolence. But you can never tell!

Mem studied herself a long while in the mirror, since her eyes and her smile made her chief wardrobe, her siren equipment. She practiced such expressions as she supposed to represent invitation. They were silly and they made her rather ill.

She reached Tirrey's office and found him idly swapping stories with his assistant. He spoke to her courteously, motioned her into his office, closed the door, and took his own place behind his desk.

The telephone rang. He called into it: "Sorry, Miss Waite; that part has been filled. The company could not make your salary. I begged you to take the cut, but you wouldn't. Times are hard and you'd better listen to reason. Sorry. Good-by."

This was a discouraging back-

"I want a chance to act."

"What experience have you had?" he asked.

Mem was suddenly confronted with the fact that all actors must of themselves for sale—not the pretty women only, but the old men, too, and the character woman.

Actors are much abused for talking of themselves. Few of them do when it is they must discuss the goods they are trying to sell. Shoe merchants talk shoes; railroad presidents, railroads; politicians, politics; clergymen, salvation. Each salesman must recommend his own stock and talk it up.

So Mem had to grope for experience and dress her window with it. And she had had so little she lied a little, as one does who tries to sell anything.

"I was with the company that Tom Holby and Robina Teale played in. I took the part of an Arabian woman."

Mr. Folger, the director—er—praised my—er—work."

"Well, he knows," said Tirrey, "but he's not with this company, you know. Have we your name and address and a photograph outside in our files?"

"No."

"Well, if you'll give them to Mr. Dobbs, with your height, weight, color of eyes and hair, and experience, we'll let you know when anything oc-

days; that's nearly a thousand a week. And if you won me over you'd still have to please the director and the managers and the author and the public. How long would our company keep going if we selected our actresses according to their immorality?

"Forget this old rot about 'paying the Price.' Tell Mr. Dobbs your pedigree and we'll give you the first chance we get, and no initiation fee or commission will be charged. How's that? A little bit of all right, eh? You're a nice child, and pretty, and you'll get along."

He lifted her from her chair and put his arm around her as a comrade, and slapped her shoulder blades in an accolade of good fellowship. She broke under the strain and began to cry. She dropped back into her chair and sobbed. It was good to be punished and rebuked into common decency by the way of common sense.

It chanced that the president of the company was returning to his office from a visit to one of the stages. This was the man whose name was familiar about the world. Every film from his factory was labeled: "Bermond presents—"

"Copyright by the Bermond Company." "This is a Bermond picture." The slogan of the company was, "This is a Bermond year."

When Mr. Bermond heard Mem crying, his heart hurt him. He did not like scandal, disorder, confusion, or grief on his lot.

He went to Mem and tried to console her. He took her hands down from her contorted face and forced her to look at him. Seen through the cascades of her tears she was strikingly attractive, appealing.

"Sarah Bernhardt failed in her first play, you know, and you may be a second Sarah some day," he said. "Just you wait."

Mem's eyes were filling with rainbows. A bystander drew Bermond aside. It was Claymore, a dramatist who had had a few successes before he established himself in the moving pictures as director.

"That girl has the tear," he said to Bermond. "That woman you've given me for my next picture is awful. Let me take this kid and give her a real test. She might have just what we want."

"Sure! Fine. Go to it!" said Bermond, and hastened to Mem with the good news that Mr. Claymore—the great Mr. Claymore—was going to give her a chance!

The next morning found Mem at the studio betimes, borrowing mas- caro and advice from Miss Calder.

Claymore was waiting for her when she came from the women's dressing rooms. She was daubed, smeared, lined, powdered, rouged, mascaraed, and generally calimined for duty. Her heart was beating in alternate throbs of fear and frenzy. Her feet were at the brink of the Rubicon.

Claymore had provided a camera man, a few men to handle the electric lights, a property man, and even a pair of musicians—a violinist and the treader of a wheezy little portable melodeon.

Claymore marched her into the scene and gave her a little of what he called footwork.

"Go back to that door and come forward to this spot. Shake hands with—er—with your lover—er—Well—no. Let me take that too simple. Let's get down to business."

"You've been—Oh—Well, just for instance, you've been—er—betrayed and your child has died and you've been accused of murdering it and you're now being called before the judge and the jury. Do you get me?"

"You're coming into a courtroom under a charge of crime; you feel your shame, but you're innocent of the charge, yet you're overwhelmed with guilt for you've fall, and the father of the child is—was killed in the war, say—and you don't much care whether you live or die; so you're in despair, yet defiant. That's a triple layer of emotion for you and I don't suppose you can get much of it over, but—just try to give the atmosphere of it. Now back to the door. Walk through it once."

Claymore was as much embarrassed as Mem, for his invention was not in its best order so early in the morning. He felt silly as a man badgered by a peevish child to tell a lie.

But his trite plot stirred Mem dazingly. He could not know how close his random shots had come home to her and flung her back from the forward-looking artist to the lorn fugitive who had stumbled into California laden with disgrace.

She was all attention and her eyes darted, her fingers twitched. Claymore marveled at her instantaneous response to his suggestion. There were born artists who shivered on the least breath of inspiration and suggestion.

His first impression of Mem was that he had found a genius, and he fought against the obstacles he encountered in her with the zest of a man dogging toward unknown gold.

In a kind of stupor Mem obeyed his command like the trained confederate of a hypnotist. She went to the door, came in, reluctant, shameful, doomed. She advanced slowly till she reached the edge of the rug he had indicated, then halted, and with a fierce effort hoisted her head in defiance and braved the lightning of judge.

She head Claymore call to her: "That's fine! Now we'll take it!"

She started back, but was checked by the camera man's "Wait, please!" He ran forward and shouted directions on all sides for lights.

"Hit those spots! Throw the ash can on her. Bring up that Kliegell. Put a diffuser on that Winfield. What's the matter with the second spot? Your censors are flickering, Mike! Mike! Turn those carbons on the second spot! Pull 'em!"

STANDS UP

Under Fire!

Up and down race the pistons—like the rapid-fire of a machine gun. Steady barrage of explosions in the cylinder! Searing heat! It takes a TOUGH oil to stand up under fire in a modern motor. And PAN-AM is tough, sturdy, safe. Moving metal parts are properly lubricated. Test PAN-AM motor oil for yourself. You'll find SAFE lubrication, courteous service at any PAN-AM sign.

Murder At Sea.

Seville, Spain. — Dr. Francesco Franchese, Porto Rican, crossed the Atlantic from New York in a 12-ton yacht and has been placed under arrest charged with shooting a sailor and throwing his body into the sea. His defense is that the sailor, incensed because he did not receive "full share of the glory" of their trip, attacked him with a knife.

Sickly Boy, 7, Gains 15 Lbs.—Father Happy

"My boy, 7, would not eat. I gave him Vinol and the way he eats and plays now makes me happy. He gained 15 pounds," J. F. Andres. Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver peptone, iron, etc. The very FIRST bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Tastes delicious.

L. A. De Montluzin Sons, Druggists.

There is a "Death Chamber in the FLY-TOX factory. This chamber is about the room size. It is used to test the quality of FLY-TOX as a spray to kill flies, mosquitoes, bedbugs, roaches, etc. During a test a large number of young, healthy insects are placed inside the cabinet. These insects are raised in incubators for testing purposes. While the insects are flying and crawling around in the "Chamber of Death," FLY-TOX is sprayed inside. Less than a teaspoon is used. Instantly there is a change. Within five minutes not a buzz is heard. All insects are dead. To make sure they are really dead, the insects are carefully removed from the "Chamber of Death" and placed in incubators in an effort to revive them. If a wing flutters, the FLY-TOX tested never leaves the factory. This test is your guarantee of FLY-TOX quality. It does what you want it to do—kill insects in and about your home. Yet, FLY-TOX is positively harmless to people. FLY-TOX was developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research fellowship. It will not stain. Has a delightful perfume-like fragrance. There is only one FLY-TOX—insist upon the genuine in bottles with blue labels. Adv.

PAINS Went Away

"I was very much run-down in health. I had a dreadful ache across the middle of my back. I had a dull, tired feeling, and I dreaded the thought of having to do my household tasks. I was tired when I got up in the morning. I got no rest from my sleep, and I was sleepy all day long."

"My husband got a bottle of Cardui for me. It was not long before I began to show a decided improvement. My strength began to turn and I felt much more like myself. The sleepy spells gradually quit and the pains in my back and sides disappeared."

"Cardui is a splendid tonic for women. I proved it for myself."—Mrs. J. E. Shelby, Box 22, R. F. D. 1, Electric, Texas.

Cardui is sold everywhere. For name, address, and price.

MOTHER AND SISTER OF BAY RESIDENTS DIES

Mrs. John H. O'Callaghan of Medford, Mass., died September 2, suddenly. She was the mother of Mrs. John B. Welch of Bay St. Louis and the sister of Miss Maytrice Coffey of Boston who has been in Bay St. Louis for some time. Mrs. Welch and children and Miss Coffey left at once for Medford to be present at the funeral. The notice of the funeral taken from The Boston Globe, September 3, states:

Medford, Sept. 3.—Funeral services for Mrs. Annie E. O'Callaghan, wife of John H. O'Callaghan of 8 Grand View ave., Medford, Center, pianist and musical composer, and well-known resident of St. Joseph's parish for 23 years, took place yesterday at St. Joseph's church. Mrs. O'Callaghan died suddenly after a few hours' sickness from a cerebral hemorrhage at the home of her daughter in Newton.

Rev. William A. Connor, assist. of St. Joseph's church was the celebrant of the high mass of requiem, which was attended by a large number of residents of Charlestown, where Mrs. O'Callaghan lived for many years before her marriage. Terry's requiem mass was sung by the choir, with Miss Agnes V. Smith of this city and Mrs. George H. Griffin of Charlestown as the soloists, under the direction of Miss Marie E. Simmons, organist.

Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell, pastor of St. James' church, Boston, and State chaplain of the A. O. H., together with Rev. John S. Keating, S. J., of Boston College and Rev. Thomas L. Burns of Charlestown, of St. John's Seminary, Brighton, were seated in the sanctuary during the mass.

Delegates from Mt. St. Mary's Academy at Hooksett, N. H., of which Mrs. O'Callaghan was a graduate; the sodality of St. Joseph's church and many organizations in which she formerly was active while a resident of Charlestown attended the funeral. The floral tributes from friends and business associates of Mr. O'Callaghan's husband and nine children numbered more than 50 pieces.

The interment took place in Holyhood cemetery, Brookline. Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell, pastor of St. James' church, Boston, and an intimate friend of the family for more than 40 years, together with Rev. John S. Keating, S. J., formerly of Charlestown, recited the prayers at the grave.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hill and their two children are guests at the Weston Hotel for a week or longer and are enjoying the many delights of the early fall and fishing and other diversions. Mr. Hill is an attaché of the office force of Hotel Roosevelt, at New Orleans, and one of the best known hotel men in the South. He is his first visit to this country, and he is delighted with his stay, enjoying every minute of an anticipated vacation that is coming up to its fullest extent. From New Orleans he will recommend guests to Bay St. Louis when seeking somewhere else to go.

—Continuation of many guests registered at the Hotel Weston, following a successful summer at the Hotel Weston is a favorable indication for both this well known hotel and resort section of the famed Mississippi Coast section. Waldo Otis, the new lessee, keeps the hotel service to a high standard, and the office force, headed by J. C. Gordon, is ever solicitous in catering to the guests and public. The dining room, conducted by Mrs. Bourgeois, sustains its excellent reputation.

—Rupert D. Wentworth, member of the teaching faculty of St. Stanislaus College last session, and who recently made a trip to Los Angeles, Calif., is located in that city permanently, becoming an attaché of the business office of Barker Bros., employing a total of 1800 people and one of the largest stores of its kind, retailing high grade furniture and de luxe house furnishings goods, housed in a twelve-story building occupying one square.

It is interesting to note this excellent young man has attained so well with a relatively new position. Messrs. E. Van Whitfield, Gus E. Temple, Arthur Whitfield, George Surdick and Capt. Aleck Faye left the Bay Tuesday on a motor trip, which will carry them quite a distance. Headed east with Jacksonville, Fla., as the first lap of their jaunt, and after viewing a number of interesting spots, they will proceed northward along the Atlantic seaboard to Washington and New York City and thence to Niagara Falls and across the border into Canada. They expect to return home in about three weeks.

PROFESSION OF VOWS AT LOCAL SEMINARY IS MARKED EVENT

Two Fraters Renew Vows—Four Profess First Vows—Seminarians Present.

On Sunday the 8th of September the ceremony of the taking of the vows took place at St. Augustine's Mission House, two of the six Scholastics, Fraters Vincent Smith and Maurice Rousseau renewing their vows—taken for the first time last year by the other four Fraters, Anthony, Bourges, Alban Velasquez, Philip Marin and Francis Wade professing their first vows.

The services began at nine o'clock. The seminarians filed into the sanctuary while the Ave Marie Stella was being sung. The Very Rev. Rector, Father Heffels, S. V. D., then preached a sermon on the text, "I rejoiced at the things that were said to me, we shall go into the house of the Lord." In the course of the sermon he recalled the obligations which of their own free will, the six young men were taking on themselves as also the recompenses promised by Our Divine Saviour to those following in His footsteps.

Thus encouraged the Fraters one by one, ascended the altar steps and kneeling, vowed to observe for one year chastity, poverty and obedience according to the constitutions of the Society of the Divine Word, returning afterwards in two weeks to receive the rules of the Order. Solemn Low Mass followed immediately.

The time set for the event coincided with the return of the boys for the new school year so that they were enabled to participate in the ceremonies which had a deep meaning for them as being significant of the day when their Fraters will have attained to the goal of the priesthood.

On Monday Mass in honor of the Holy Ghost was celebrated solemnly to implore God's blessing on the school term. Afterwards schedules were arranged and classes signed, and college department Tuesday morning.

The Sunday previous another impressive ceremony took place when the recently completed temporary quarters of the scholastics on Second Street were blessed and Mass was celebrated for the first time in their new Chapel. The Very Reverend Gerhard Heffels, S. V. D. who officiated at both these ceremonies is the newly appointed Rector of the Seminary, the successor of the late Rev. M. Christman, S. V. D. Father Heffels took up his duties at St. Augustine's a few weeks ago.

EDITOR IS SPEAKER AT ROTARY CLUB

(Continued from page one) returned to his seat she was there to greet him and ask concerning her Bay St. Louis friends to whom she desired to be remembered.

A motor trip was made to beautiful Santa Barbara which since the earthquake has rebuilt in Spanish architecture. Mr. and Mrs. Moreau spent three days there attending the annual Spanish fiesta which was most colorful with everyone wearing Spanish costumes, and they witnessed the dedication of the $1,000,000 court house which is of Spanish style. "Romance rather than legal austerity pervade the Courthouse which charmed and thrilled us with its beauty," Mr. Moreau said.

From Los Angeles they made a motor trip of 480 miles and return to Old Mexico, visiting Aguila Caliente where the Americans have built a $2,000,000 hotel and casino which is said to rival Monte Carlo. They visited Ensenada, which Mr. Moreau described as a typical Mexican town, a port of entry on the Pacific ocean, where no one speaks English. "I abandoned in that part of Mexico the use of both feet and hands, soft drink stands and slot machines, familiar scenes in the border towns," he said. Seventy miles of the motor trip was over mountain roads through wonderful country.

"We travelled nearly 7,000 miles during our five weeks' absence from Bay St. Louis and saw no rain while away," he said.

Prof. S. J. Ingram superintendent of the public schools, spoke regarding the night school which the local Rotary Club operates in cooperation with the state vocational board with Prof. Ingram in charge. This school opened its first session Wednesday night of this week. Prof. Ingram announced that there is no charge for tuition for those who attend the night school and any who are interested are invited to secure further information from him.

K. E. Kimball, district forester who has headquarters at Wiggins, was a guest of the club at luncheon.

Attendance Contest.

The attendance contest in progress at the Rotary club is proving most efficient in getting the members out for the meetings. This contest which went into effect this week and which continues for four weeks resulted in all members being present except one, Brother Peter, who sent word he would make up his attendance before next week, which will give each side an equal percentage.

The club membership was divided into two teams. Clem Weston captaining the "Golden Turnstones" named in courtesy to George Toca, which Mr. Weston attended, and Harold Weston heading the "Red Devils" or Roctachaws, named in honor of the local St. Stanislaus College team. The carting secured their teams by drawing for the names last week. The attendance percentage of the members of the two teams were obtained and when added for comparison were found to be but three points apart which gave the two teams an even break for the beginning of the contest.

The penalty which is to be imposed on the losing team has not yet been decided. The two teams have been injected into the meeting attendance by reason of the contest and all members are enjoying the resulting amusement.

HE WOULDN'T DODGE HIS DUTY SAYS RYAN

"I would feel like I was dodging my duty if I didn't attend at this wonderful Sargon treatment did for me."

"I suffered with nervous indigestion for four years. I had mighty little appetite, and even the sight of food would nauseate me. I was very weak, my kidneys gave me a lot of trouble, and I was nearly all bilious and head-achy. I began the Sargon treatment and every trace of indigestion is ended, my appetite is fine, and all my stomach trouble is over. My kidneys and bladder never bother me, I have gained weight, and constipation and biliousness are a thing of the past."

"I am a strong, healthy man for the first time in years and I am giving this wonderful medicine all the credit for it."—Joseph F. Ryan, Sr., Greenville, Miss.

Atlas Drug Store, Agent.
